Under-Represented Peoples Project

Locate early records for people of African-American, American Indian, Asian, and Hispanic decent.

- The GRC asks volunteers to search for these hard-to-find records to aid in research where information is more scarce. These records would not only assist with DAR applications, but are also important for genealogical preservation and history.
- Bible records, church and cemetery records, school records, and community records would all be very important to this project.

Children of Patriots Project

Proving all the children of patriots listed in the DAR Patriot Database.

- Wills, probate records, and Bible records often list all, or many, of the children of Revolutionary War Patriots, both alive and deceased.
- Not all Patriots left wills but, if a Patriot lived or is buried in your area, a search for records in your courthouse and historical societies may also offer documents such as marriage and land records.
